

My Muhibbu,
Thamrat jameel ❤

We do not celebrate this day, not only being haram but also it doesn't make sense to me, why celebrate love on a specific day, what about other days?

What I am trying to say is thank you for loving me, you've taught me gentleness, patience, and purpose. You are not only beautiful in the way you are, the cute gaze you have and even mesmerizing smile, but you have a good heart too. I admire all of them, without forgetting your kindness, and the calm strength you carry within you despite the challenges you face at work.

I pray that we are written for one another fi dunyya wal akhera, and that our love will always bring us closer to Allah, fill our home with sakinah, and make us garments of comfort for each other in this life and the next. I pray that our love continues to grow in wadda, that we walk together towards Jannah hand in hand, and that every smile we share becomes a sadaqah written for us both.

I pray that every day of my life I will be thanking Allah for the quiet blessing of your presence in my life. I pray that you will be not only my partner, but my peace, the one who softens my worries, strengthens my faith, and reminds me what mercy looks like in human form. I pray that Allah grant me the ability to be the qawwam he needs me to be towards you because my teacher once told me that “love is not possession but protection”
